This report must be accompanied or preceded by a currently effective Fund prospectus and variable product prospectus, which contain more complete information, including sales charges and expenses. Investors should read each carefully before investing.

UnitedHealth Group is a bellwether in the health care provider space that we believed was well positioned for rising rates and inflation. We also had a favorable view on the managed care space due to conservative (higher) pricing and reimbursement, as well as manageable (lower) utilization tied to COVID-19 and staffing issues.

We believe that inflation may have peaked and may continue to cool, especially as consumers and enterprises scale back in the face of tighter conditions. The team expects the economy will slow and growth will become scarce. As a result, we continue to evaluate the likelihood for earnings revisions for companies under our purview. Looking forward, we see compelling opportunities for secular growers at attractive valuations.

At the close of the fiscal year, the Fund was significantly overweight in the IT sector relative to the broader NASDAQ Total Return Composite Index. Conversely, the Fund was underweight in consumer discretionary, health care, consumer staples and financials sectors.

Ash Shah took over as portfolio manager for the Invesco V.I. Technology Fund effective November 28, 2022. Erik Voss announced plans to retire on June 30, 2023, and is no longer the Fund's portfolio manager.

exchange rates and the fluctuation of market prices on investments (net of estimated foreign tax withholding) are included with realized gain or loss from investments in the Statement of Operations. Reported net realized foreign currency gains or losses arise from (1) the sale of foreign currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, and (2) the difference between the amount interest, and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net foreign currency gains and losses arise from changes in the fair values of assets and liabilities, other than investments in securities arising from changes in exchange rates.

The Fund may invest in foreign securities, which may be subject to foreign taxes on income, gains on investments or currency repatriation, a may be recoverable. Foreign taxes, if any, are recorded based on the tax regulations and rates that exist in the foreign markets and are shown in the Statement of Operations.

- K. Forward Foreign Currency Contracts „ The Fund may engage in foreign currency transactions either on a spot (i.e. for prompt delivery and settlement basis, or through forward foreign currency contracts, to manage or minimize currency or exchange rate risk.

The Fund may also enter into forward foreign currency contracts for the purchase or sale of a security denominated in a foreign currency in the U.S. dollar price of that security, or the Fund may also enter into forward foreign currency contracts that do not provide for physical exchange currencies on the settlement date, but instead are settled by a single cash payment calculated as the difference between the agreed upon exchange spot rate at settlement based upon an agreed upon notional amount (non-deliverable forwards).

A forward foreign currency contract is an obligation between two parties (Counterparties) to purchase or sell a specific currency at an agreed future date. The use of forward foreign currency contracts for hedging does not eliminate fluctuations in the price of the underlying securities the intends to acquire but establishes a rate of exchange in advance. Fluctuations in the value of these contracts are measured by the difference in and reporting date exchange rates and are recorded as unrealized appreciation (depreciation) until the contracts are closed. When the contract realized gains (losses) are recorded. Realized and unrealized gains (losses) on the contracts are included in the Statement of Operations. The associated with forward foreign currency contracts include failure of the Counterparty to meet the terms of the contract and the value of the foreign changing unfavorably. These risks may be in excess of the amounts reflected in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

Capital loss carryforward	(8,350,852)
Shares of beneficial interest	99,460,779
Total net assets	$111,414,953

The difference between book-basis and tax-basis unrealized appreciation (depreciation) is due to differences in the timing and recognition of gains and losses on investments for tax and book purposes. The Fund's net unrealized appreciation (depreciation) difference is attributable primarily to wash sales.

The temporary book/tax differences are a result of timing differences between book and tax recognition of income and/or expenses. Book/tax differences are the result of the trustee deferral of compensation and retirement plan benefits.

Capital loss carryforward is calculated and reported as of a specific date. Results of transactions and other activity after that date may affect the amount of capital loss carryforward actually available for the Fund to utilize. The ability to utilize capital loss carryforward in the future may be limited by the Internal Revenue Code and related regulations based on the results of future transactions.

The Fund does not have a capital loss carryforward as of December 31, 2022.

Capital Loss Carryforward*

Expiration	Short-Term	Long-Term	Total
Not subject to expiration	$8,350,852	$,	$8,350,852

* Capital loss carryforward is reduced for limitations, if any, to the extent required by the Internal Revenue Code and may be further limited by factors, including the realization of net unrealized gains or losses as of the date of any reorganization.

Unrealized Appreciation (Depreciation) of Investments on a Tax Basis

Aggregate unrealized appreciation of investments	$27,130,244
Aggregate unrealized (depreciation) of investments	(6,791,634)
Net unrealized appreciation of investments	$20,338,610

Cost of investments for tax purposes is $111,426,895.

NOTE 8—Reclassification of Permanent Differences

Primarily as a result of differing book/tax treatment of net operating losses, on December 31, 2022, undistributed net investment income (loss) was $599,750, undistributed net realized gain (loss) was decreased by $12,155 and shares of beneficial interest was decreased by $67,150. This reclassification had no effect on the net asset value of the Fund as of the period-end.

Our audits included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our audits also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.
